

Wonderful Scenes at the "Queen of the Moulin Rouge"

Commencing promptly on the stroke of midnight tonight the curtain at the Grand will rise on a wonderfully attractive presentation. It is to be the privilege of the theatre patrons to "Watch The Old Year Out" in a novel manner, for they will gather at the Grand during the closing minutes of the present year and be ready to welcome the New Year as the whistles blow and the bells toll, in witnessing the big scenes of the "Queen of the Moulin Rouge," which will be the feature of the new year.

Martha Mansfield, the star of this production, was one of the dancing beauties of the famous Ziegfeld "Follies," which fact alone gave promise when it was announced that she was to play the title role; but the producers did not content themselves with having a Follies star featured in the great revue, but engaged the finest talent from the various spectacular girl shows on Broadway, among them a sextet from the colorful "Rose of Stamboul" production—one of the most magnificent spectacles of the 1922 season in New York.

These girls are used in an especially elaborate dance which gives a high artistic tone to the production. The scenes in which they appear are those representing the interior of the Moulin Rouge, most notorious of the flamboyant, tinsel palaces of extravagance in the night-life district of gay Paris. The background for their dance is an authentic replica of the interior of the original Moulin Rouge.

"Queen of the Moulin Rouge" tells the sensational story of a young girl of Normandy whose heart was captured by an old music master to awaken genius in a youth who loved her, a prize pupil whose playing was without soul because he had not been touched by the tragedies of life.

Wealthy Colonies Tending to Make France Very Rich

Paris, Dec. 30.—A proper development of her rich colonies would help France fill the gap made by the waste of the rich general war, is the argument advanced today by Albert Sarraut, Minister of Colonies, who is known in the United States because of his work at the Washington disarmament conference. M. Sarraut is the leader in an effort to so equip French colonies that in case of another war, France would not depend on the outside world for her stocks of food, coal and other supplies.

The French colonies in Africa and Asia are slightly larger than the United States, with a total of 56 million inhabitants. Through protectorates and otherwise, France controls about forty percent of the continent of Africa. According to M. Sarraut, the richest of all French colonies is Indo-China, with a population of 19 million people and an area of six times that of the state of Alabama.

M. Sarraut has a bill before the parliament to bring about the development of France's colonies, their mines, forests, and agriculture, a program which would require 3 billion francs. If France could arrange matters with Germany so she would be sure of no further invasions, this money would be forthcoming by reductions in the national budget, M. Sarraut declares.

MASH DESTROYED IN BOSTWICK DISTRICT

Sheriff Hagan and three deputies made another trip to the Bostwick section of the county Friday night, hotfooting for hooch. The finding of one still and the destroying of a large quantity of mash two days before had put the officers on their mettle, and this time they were sure of making a good haul.

They found the still, and they found about five hundred gallons of mash. The latter was destroyed and the containers made a "glorious bonfire," according to the officers. As on a previous occasion there was no one at home and there were no arrests made. As in the previous instance a note was left asking the owners of the destroyed property to call at the office of the sheriff and make complaint, if any there was.

THREW AWAY LIQUOR IN OVER-CITY CHASE

Vannis Hill is in jail, with a $500 appearance bond staring him in the face, and no colored friend to come to his relief.

Hill was driving about Palatka Friday night, and the sheriff's forces suspected that he had some liquor in the car. So they speeded after him. Hill also suspected they were after him, and he proceeded to break all the speed laws on the city books. It was up the hill and down again, and slipping into this sidestreet and out again, for both cars. Hill succeeded in throwing out about ten gallons, and that was lost to the world; but another lot of five gallons thrown out of the car was saved as the containers were strong. The sheriff's forces gathered up the evidence and returned to the office. Yesterday morning the officers found Hill, whom they had recognized during the chase, and placed him in jail. His hearing will probably be had on Tuesday.

NOTICE, CATTLE OWNERS

FOUND—In my front yard, corner Emmett and Morris streets, Saturday morning, December 30, at 7 o'clock, four very sorry range cows, worth about 30 cents each. Said cows seem to be very hungry from the way they were pulling up the grass in my yard, and for fear they would not find the pasture of the owner from whence they escaped, I have impounded said cows in my chicken lot under lock and key. Owner can have same by paying for this advertisement and $20 damage said cows have done to my yard, if called and paid for not later than Tuesday evening, January 2, A. D. 1923. On morning of January 3 at 8 o'clock, if said cows have not been redeemed they will be driven across the river and turned at large to bother someone else, as I am tired chasing cows every night off my lawn.
